PRETTY LINEN DOLLIES.

They Are More Popular This Summer Than Ever Before.

Their Numbers Have Increased Until They Are Nearly Beyond Count-Tablecloths for Luncheons Are No Longer Au Fait.

The doily is in great demand. Its numbers have increased and added unto themselves until now they are nearly beyond count. The very latest of all is the wine glass doily, and authorities declare that a full set must include all sizes and sorts from it to the big one which forms the centerpiece. But without going quite so far as that, one can set a very charming table and present an up-to-date appearance with only a part of the prescribed

One of the most important of all to the lucky owner of a polished mahogany board is the plate doily. In its latest, most approved style it is ten inches square, is tinished with a fringe and is embroidered in one corner only. When the table is laid these embroidered bits are all turned toward the center, where they decorate the cloth, and the plain portion is left free for the plate. They are really very decorative, and if you possess a dozen of a centerpiece, you are well supplied. The multitude of smaller ones will hardly be missed, and you can always console yourself with the thought that many object to the too great accumulation of linen bits.

The wreath and the bow-knot designs still hold sway. The former is used almost exclusively for the round doilies, oughly well worth the doing.

Kibbons and flowers combined are always charming and suggestive of the best French taste. Just now they are very popular and are rivaled only by the wreaths. Most needle workers make the ribbon solid as well as the flowers, but one clever women has devised a rapid and effective method of her own. She first outlines the entire design, then illis the space between the lines with single cat stitching. The result is really striking and well worth the trying. The contrast between the solid flowers and the lighter ribbon is charming and novel, besides being very little work. A most successful design of the sort is of white violets tied with pale yellow ribbon, and it is seldom one gets a better result with even the most exacting work.

Luncheons promise to be popular the season through, and the bare table will be much in use both for indoor and the piazza functions. These charming bits of napery will so find a speedy domand and may well employ all one's leisure time. Linen is delightful stuff to handle in the warra summer days, and an array of well selected silks in a natty basket makes a picture not to be despised.-N. Y. Recorder.

A Recips for Tartists.

Mix four ounces of fine sugar and four ounces of ground almonds into a stiff paste with the yolks of two eggs; roll it out about a quarter of an inch thick, cut into rounds with a fluted pastry cutter and line some small tartlet tins with them. Fry them in a cool oven for some hours, remove and leave them to get cold and firm. Then detach them earofully from the molds, dust over with pounded sugar and fill with strawberries and cream prepared as follows: Put a pound of picked ripe strawberries into a basin with four ounces of sugar and a teaspoonful of maraschine, let them stand for an hour, then mix carefully and lightly with a gill and a half of whipped eream. Dish the tartlets on a napkin or fancy dessert paper.

It not only covers the disfigured surface but restores wood to its original color, leaving a lustre upon the surface. Apply with a woolen cloth and when dry rub with woolca.

> Flowers in Finger Bowls. A very pleasing table decoration that is easily carried out throughout the summer months is the addition of flowers to the finger-bowls. Use double bowls, one large enough to hold the other, and fill the space between the two with very small blossoms. The effect of dipping the fingers into flowerencircled water is decidedly unique
